

Cowboy Ted's ~ Healthy Lifestyles Series

Baby Farm Animals

By "Cowboy Ted" Hallisey

Illustrated by Craig Hayes

Copyright 2008

Books by Cowboy Ted

Billy the Bull - A Kids Guide to Rodeo ~ 24-pages

Learn all about Rodeo – from the perspective of a Bull named BILLY.

Billy the Bull - A Kids Guide to Rodeo $3.00 each

Rodeo Coloring Book ~ 12-pages

A coloring book with illustrations for all seven Rodeo events.

Cowboy Ted's Rodeo Coloring Book $2.00 each

Healthy Lifestyles Coloring Book ~ 12-pages

A coloring book with illustrations relating to each of the 8-rules for Cowboy Ted's Healthy Lifestyles program for kids.

Cowboy Ted's Healthy Lifestyles Coloring Book $2.00 each

Horse Racing Coloring Book ~ 12-pages

Color the pages of illustrations of Horses, Jockey, Trainer & Winner's Circle.

Cowboy Ted's Horse Racing Coloring Book $2.00 each

Order Books Online
www.cowboyted.com

A Baby Chicken
is called a
CHICK

A girl is called a hen.
A boy is called a rooster.
It takes about 21 days for a chick to hatch from an egg.

A Baby Turkey
is called a
POULT or CHICK

A boy is called a tom or "gobbler".

A girl is called a hen.

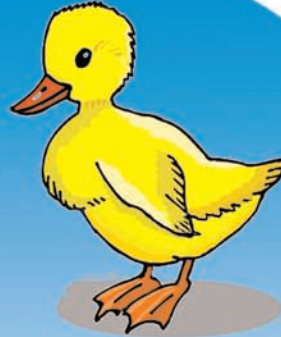

Turkeys eat seeds, grain, and bugs!

It takes about 28 days
for a "poult" or chick to hatch from an egg.

A Baby Duck
is called a
DUCKLING

A boy is called a drake.
A girl is called a duck.
It takes 28 days for a duckling
to hatch from an egg.

A Baby Goose
is called a
GOSLING

A boy is called a gander.
A girl is called a goose.

It takes about 30 days for a
gosling to hatch
from an egg.

A Baby Horse
is called a FOAL

A boy is called a colt.
A girl is called a filly.

An adult male is called a stallion.
An adult female is called a mare.

A Baby Pony
is called a FOAL

A pony is a small horse.
Ponies are less than 58 inches tall
when measured at the shoulder.
A boy is called a stallion.
A girl is called a mare.

A Baby Donkey
is called a
COLT

A boy donkey is called a jack.
A girl donkey is called a jenny.

A Baby Rabbit
is called a BUNNY

A girl is called a doe.
A boy is called a buck.
Rabbits eat alfalfa (hay) pellets.
Bunnies don't open their eyes
until they are 10 days old.

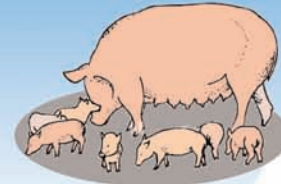

A Baby Pig
is called a
PIGLET

A girl is called a sow.
A boy is called a boar.
Pigs are actually very clean animals.
Pigs eat corn, oats, and grain.

A Baby Cow
is called a
CALF

A girl is called a cow.
A boy is called a bull.

Cows eat grass and hay
and grain.
We get MILK from cows.

A Baby Goat
is called a
KID

A girl is called a doe.
A boy is called a buck.
Goats eat oats, grass,
and hay.
Goats don't really eat
tin cans.

A Baby Sheep
is called a
LAMB

A boy is called a ram.
A girl is called a ewe.
Sheep eat grass, hay, and grain.
Wool comes from sheep.
Sheep do not have
front teeth on top.

Cowboy Ted

Squaw Valley, California 1995

Photo by Dana Burroughs

www.cowboyted.com

“Cowboy Ted” Hallisey wrote this book to help educate kids about healthy lifestyles. He has a personal goal of touching the lives of One Million children in a positive way. He has visited with over 175,000 students to share his Healthy Lifestyles message for Kids. He is founder of Cowboy Ted’s Foundation for Kids and holds a Master of Education degree in Health, PE & Recreation from Utah State University. CT has served as a college instructor at colleges and universities in California, Missouri, and Utah. The longtime educator has written eight books for kids along with three coloring books. He is a frequent presenter at school assemblies and tobacco education conferences across the United States. The cornerstone of Cowboy Ted’s program, consists of the 8-concepts for Healthy Lifestyles, which are symbolic of the 8-second ride in Rodeo. CT has covered a host of professional rodeos including National Finals Rodeo and PBR as a credentialed print and broadcast journalist. Cowboy Ted and his wife Jenny have a little Cowboy named Nicholas and Cowgirl named Julianne. Cowboy Ted has two grown sons; Adam and Christopher. They live in rural Utah. To find out more about Cowboy Ted and his programs for kids - go online to www.cowboyted.com

Craig Hayes is a longtime family friend of Cowboy Ted’s wife Jenny. Hayes and Hallisey quickly developed a strong friendship and began working on the concept for Billy the Bull. The talented illustrator of Billy the Bull has teamed up with Cowboy Ted on Children’s Books. He also provided the illustrations for the children’s book created by CT - titled Baby Farm Animals. The Utah native attended Bountiful High School, Salt Lake Community College and Weber State University. He has lived in Alaska, Texas, and Oklahoma. The retired Petrochemical Maintenance Supervisor has also illustrated a couple of historical books. Craig and wife Charlie have been married over 40 years and are the proud parents of three kids – Carrie, Cameron, and Chandra along with seven wonderful grandchildren. Craig enjoys art, woodworking, fishing, golf, and computer graphics. Craig is eager to help Cowboy Ted reach his goal of touching the lives of one million kids.